JANUARY 8TH-10TH, 2016

CHRISTOPHER PAUL

Zeus' Decree

Greetings Citizens of Olympus.

Welcome to the Mount of the Gods, my home. From the 4 corners of the world you have come to pay your tribute to your gods, and to celebrate the annual festival of the beasts.

As your host, I Zeus, King of the Gods welcome you. Make yourself at home, and enjoy the riches bestowed on you during this joyous celebration.

The Gods who reign from Mt. Olympus have been the subject of intrigue and fascination for centuries, with their myth and legend enduring through the ages. Born from the depths of the Underworld, rooted in the River of Souls, the Gods who ruled from the mountain emerged out of the chaos. As it grew, so too did the might of the Olympians. They created a world of peace, a world of prosperity. A world that lives in the shadow and safety of the mountain, a mountain that came to be the absolute measure of strength.

The myths and legends have inspired creativity and passion all across the globe. From written word and poetry to paintings and music, The Gods bore creativity in which ever heart their story would blossom. Much like the Furry fandom.

We welcome you to bring your stories, and art. Bring your passions and dreams. Be inspired and inspire others this weekend as we explore that one element that brings us together, our love for humanised animals in a human cultural setting. As we continue to grow in numbers and join together in passion, our strength will become like that of the great mountain, prosperous and safe for those with similar creative aspirations.

Never be scared to dream, and don't stop believing.

Onward!

The Gods of Olympus welcome you to ConFurgence 2016.

I am Pan, the god of all things wild and natural, and I'm here to introduce you to the delights of a convention dedicated to lovers of anthropomorphic creations.

Firstly, I discern you are here to frolic in joyful experiences and depart with many enchanted memories. An my role in this? Simple - I shall counsel you to respect others and make sure any newcomer feels welcome.

Plan your time with the use of the con book, the mobile device app, wall schedules and the help desk. If you take note in advance, you won't miss out on a favoured event.

ConFurgence is a family-friendly festival. I'm a satyr, and if I can remember this rule in my public manners, so can you.

Let not your dreams and fancies outpace your body. You are only human. Food, drink, rest and cleansing are essential accompaniments to this revelry. I hereby avouch to the truth of the time-honoured Rule of 6:2:1. Every day, have at least...

6 hours of sleep
2 good meals
1 shower

Alcohol is available to be bought and consumed by adults, but is never to be supplied to minors under the age of 18. At all!

The ConFurgence staff members will keep a kind and watchful eye over you, as do shepherds watch their flock. Sometimes they may intervene, in the best interest of you and others. They are skilled, responsible and know what they are doing. Respect this, please.

And so, my visitors to the animal world of ancient Greece, I bid you welcome. Let the merrymaking begin

Code of Conduct

Greetings, mortals! The leader of Olympus himself, the mighty Zeus, has laid down these directions for the safety and health of all his guests. What follows is a summary of our Policies, which cover all attendees, guests and volunteers at ConFurgence. Please make yourself familiar with the Policies online at: www.confurgence.com/admin/policies

Any behaviour or action that causes interference, discomfort or harm to Australian Fandom Conventions, its attendees, guests, venue, the public, or its relationship with any of those mentioned, is strictly forbidden. Violation may result in confiscation of convention badge, removal from the convention and hotel, or appropriate action as deemed by the Australian Fandom Conventions Board.

Most of the convention is rated PG15 or less. Events which exceed this rating will be clearly marked.

Please have your con badge with you at all times. This marks you as a registered attendee of the convention, and allows you to enter the Amora Riverwalk Hotel (which has been booked exclusively for ConFurgence!)

Use common sense when in public areas. Displays of affection are great, within reason. Minimum dress standards are shirt, shorts and shoes, and while fashionable collars are acceptable attire, explicit or fetish-related clothing is asked to be kept to your room.

Australian Fandom Conventions supports the responsible consumption of alcohol. Attendees seen to be intoxicated will be refused service. It is an offence to supply alcohol to a person under the age of 18, and it is an offence for a person aged under 18 to receive or purchase alcohol (both enforceable under the Victorian Liquor Control Reform Act 1998 and subject to fines over $5000 for all parties). We take this policy very seriously.

ConFurgence is a drug-free event. Smokers should use the designated smoking areas outside of the hotel.

Please do not throw items from balconies or staircases, including paper airplanes, confetti, streamers etc.

Weapons of any kind are not allowed at ConFurgence. Weapon replicas may be used during costume parades but should be clearly recognisable as such, and stored safely when not in use.

Cameras and video equipment are not permitted in the Fursuit Lounge, Fursuit Photography Room or Art Show at any time. Photography is allowed at most events except for: the Pre-Fursuit Walk Shoot; the Charity Auction; and any events marked "No Photography" at request of panelists or participants. Participants are asked to respect that some people may not want to appear in photos and should delete photos if requested.

Charity of the Year

We are proud to announce that in 2016, we welcome back our most beloved charity, the Australian Dingo Foundation!

2015 brought about the sad and untimely passing of our dear friend and founder of the ADF, Peter Watson. As a legacy of Peter's unwavering hard work, we welcome back our Australian Dingo Foundation family and extend our continual support as they embark on a new project very close to Peter's heart.

Aus Eco Solutions, Australian Dingo Foundation and Mt Rothwell have just announced a collective conservation program. It's a Victorian first approach to creating a sustainable and balanced native ecosystem, and will pave the way for conservation and research projects Australia wide. They are taking an innovative and fresh approach that is based on scientific evidence to restore native reserves.

An enclosure has been built at Mt Rothwell for a breeding pair of pure-bred dingoes and their four newly born pups. The pups have just opened their eyes to explore their new environment, and will grow into their new role as protectors of this diverse territory.

The project will work towards developing these dingo pups to grow as leaders among dingoes and humans alike. The pups will also be ambassadors for the future of environmental management techniques. The project hopes to finally reverse the damage to ecosystems which have been stripped of their apex predator, and to create sustainable long-term change for the future.

In honour of Peter, we will also be establishing a new award, which will be awarded this coming year, and every year at ConFurgence.

The inaugural Peter Watson Award for Contributions to Australian Wildlife will be a nomination based award, recognising exceptional contributions by animal rescue individuals as voted by the ConFurgence Chairman, FurWAG Chair, Lyn Watson, and 2 additional representatives from local charities.

The award will be open for nominations by charities around Australia who wish to honour individuals within their organisation, with the panel making a final decision on the recipient.

We hope to honour Peter's memory by continuing his legacy of furthering the welfare of Australian wildlife, and through our support of the Australian Dingo Foundation at ConFurgence 2016.

CHEETAHPAWS

We are pleased to welcome Cheetahpaws to ConFurgence 2016 as our artist Guest of Honour!

Cheetahpaws resides in the hot and sunny island-city of Singapore. The country itself is less than one tenth the size of Melbourne, yet is home to 5.4 million people! Needless to say, Singapore is known for its bustling energy.

Thanks to the internet, he discovered the furry fandom in 2000 and took up residence at Yerf, formerly known as the Squeaky Clean Furry Archive. Cheetahpaws loves to meet new artists and finally put a face to the names he knows online.

For the past 8 years, Cheetahpaws has been a professional arts instructor by day and a furry artist by night. He works as a freelance artist as well as offering commissions occasionally. His artwork is instantly recognisable through its painterly style, sense of movement and bright neon accents.

His artworks have been published with Furplanet as well as in his own calendars, decorating people's homes each year with themes such as "The Warriorz 2014", "Beach Boyz 2015", and the 2016 release "Space Explorers"! Cheetahpaws dreams of creating his own line of CP-branded furry underwear, conquering the fandom from the bottom up!

He is currently working intensively on creating his first ever artbook as fast as his little spotty paws can handle. It'll be filled with art tutorials and exciting illustrations to inspire readers to create stunning artwork of their own.

Be sure to visit Cheetahpaws in the Dealers Den, keep an eye out for his suit, and don't be afraid to introduce yourself!

Find Cheetahpaws online at:

We are delighted to have our friend and talented performer Blü (Damian Parker) here with us at ConFurgence in 2016!

Known in the fandom as both a dancer and Youtube star, Blü's last appearance at an Australian convention was at FurWAG 2014. He has recently returned from a year long tour of the United States as a dancer with Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Circus. The tour culminated in him fulfilling his lifelong dream of petting a tiger!

Blü has been dancing for 16 years. He has earned a Certificate IV in Performing Arts and was an Australia's Got Talent Finalist. Blü also likes to sit in a room, by himself, and talk to a camera. His channel boasts 46,000 subscribers and counting!

Find Blu on your chosen social media platform under the username @HeyoDamo. Don't forget to check out his Youtube channel at youtube.com/user/HeyoDamo!

SNAPCAT OF BYCATS4CATS

We are pleased to have Snapcat, the feline behind ByCats4Cats, back with us for ConFurgence in 2016!

Eric Stevens became active in the fandom in 1999 and a year later he borrowed and wore a fursuit for the first time. He instantly commissioned a fursuit for himself which he took to Midwest Furfest 2000.

Snap made his first fursuit "Velcro Tiger" in 2001 - he had velcro stripes so Snap could stick on whatever colour stripes he wanted! He began to make fursuits as a hobby for himself, and a few for others.

ByCats4Cats.com was created to offer commissions on a part time basis in 2009, but by May of 2012 Snap had decided to leave his job at Paypal.com to make fursuit-making his full-time career.

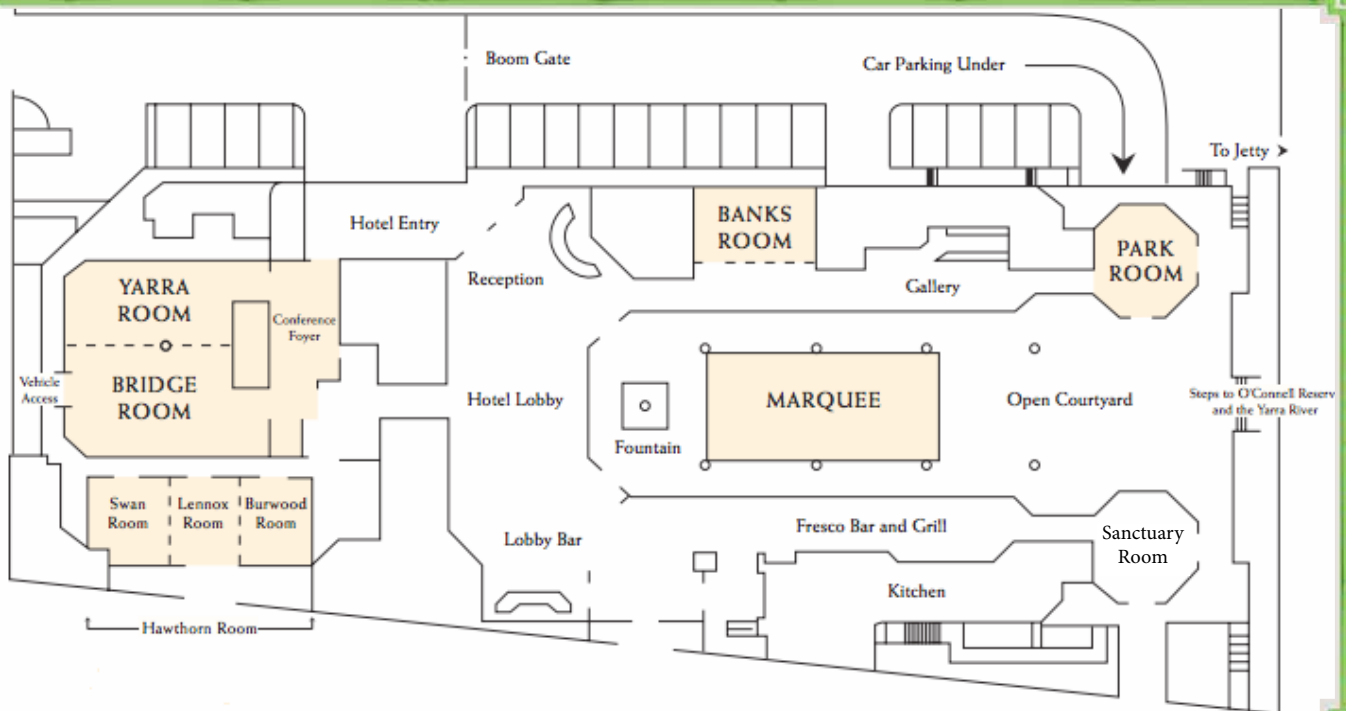

Snap is accompanied by his husband Thor, often seen in his iconic white lion fursuit. Thor and Snap were married in August of 2013 and live in White Bear Lake, Minnesota, in the United States. ByCats4Cats now resides in a 950 sq. ft. basement and has one full time employee - Dona!

Having made over 200 fursuits for furries all over the world, he says that he is living the dream and doesn't take his 'job' for granted.

Keep up with the ByCats4Cats production team on Twitter, FurAffinity and Facebook @ByCats4Cats. For a full gallery of work, commission info or a quote, visit ByCats4Cats.com

CELEBRATING OUR 20TH ANTHROCON

JUNE 30 THRU July 3, 2016

DAVID L. LAWRENCE CONVENTION CENTER — PITTSBURGH, PA

GUESTS OF HONOR TO BE ANNOUNCED

WWW.ANTHROCON.ORG

Welcome to the Amora Hotel Riverwalk, our host for ConFurgence 2016!

Here at the Amora, we are only minutes from the Melbourne CBD, plus all of the shopping and supper options offered by the famous Bridge Road district! Take your time to explore the Amora's beautiful courtyard, park and river, which will play host to some of our key events during the con.

If you venture into the city, or get lost on your walk-about, simply hop aboard a tram - number 48 and 75 trams stop right outside the hotel at Stop 22 (Yarra Blvd).

ConFurgence will be running a shuttle bus service between the Amora and our two overflow venues, the Adara Richmond and the Quest East Melbourne. This will run for the three days of the con, and is available at a small fee of $5 per person for the weekend.

For a range of highlights, essential services and other info on the local area, visit either:

Convention Services

REGISTRATION

Our registration desk is your one-stop shop. Services include: check in; lost & found; first aid; signup for events and workshops; and any other queries you might have throughout the con!

PHOTOSHOOTS

This year, our photographers will be holding photoshoots in the Swan room. Those wishing to have a fursuit photoshoot can book their solo and group sessions via our website. A text and email reminder will be sent before your slot, so there's no need to stand in line waiting in your suit! To register, visit:

www.confurgence.com/registration/fursuit-photoshoot

The Fursuit Walk is one of our main events during ConFurgence! Join us as the largest gathering of fursuiters in the Southern Hemisphere tours the streets of Melbourne!

Prior to the shoot, we will be holding a mass photo shoot with all of our fursuiters in one frame! Please note that this shoot is exclusive to the ConFurgence Photography Team, as the resulting photo will be printed as a banner and auctioned for the benefit of our charity.

HEADLESS LOUNGE

The Headless Lounge offers a place of respite for our fursuiters to cool off and take a break. You can find the Headless Lounge in the Lennox and Burwood rooms.

So many moving pieces go together to make this machine tick, and without each and every one of them, ConFurgence would cease to exist.

The list is never ending, and the effort, blood, sweat and tears is immense.

Firstly, to the amazing team behind the scenes that make this convention tick. Your dedication to the cause is second to none!

Next, to the wonderful volunteers who work non stop during the convention. It is a thankless job (unless you make a point to thank them with a cold beverage of the alcoholic nature) and you lot keep coming back for more every year! Are you crazy? Good, cos so are we!

To the Amora RiverWalk hotel, thank you for making us feel like we are at home.

MAV, for providing deals that only a mad man would agree to, thank you! We appreciate your support, and can't wait to further our relationship with you.

Our official event Partner EventBrite, for believing that we are an event worth investing in.

To my beautiful and amazing Executive Board of Directors at Australin Fandom Conventions... You lot are definitely my kind of crazy! I love you guys.

Lastly, to each and every single person who registered and attended this year, and the last 10 years while I have run this event. Over 5,000 tickets sold, 10 years of crazy parties, wild stories, tears, laughter, and general epic-ness!

Thank you for supporting ConFurgence. Thank you for supporting the dream. Thank you for being you!

... And don't forget, if you can't love yourself... How the hell you gonna love someone else!

With love
CynWolfe

KEVIN & Kell

by Bill Holbrook

Kevin and Kell, the Internet's longest-running daily comic strip, made its debut on September 4, 1995 and quickly proved to be an instant hit with the online audience. Today it averages 3.5 million page views per month and has been featured in 20 paperback collections from Pencil Rough Productions.

Kevin, a burly rabbit, and Kell, a petite she-wolf, met online, fell in love and only later realized they were from opposite ends of the food chain. They now head a very blended family that includes Rudy, a teen wolf cub from Kell's previous marriage, the adopted hedgehog Lindesfarne and Kevin and Kell's own offspring Coney, a little carnivorous bunny.

With its engaging cast, its broad, cutting edge sensibility and its loopy yet heartfelt view of life, it draws a global following to the adventures that provide a window on the personal, political and lifestyle conflicts of our own world. Encompassing a wide range of concerns from global affairs to Botox treatments, from environmental issues to the hunt for the next job promotion, the full range of society comes into play. In short, Kevin and Kell devour life to its fullest...lest it devour them!

"QUITE SIMPLY... A BRILLIANT, BRILLIANT COMIC." - JENNER

BY AARON NEATHRY

www.gocomics.com/endtown

It's the End of Civilization as we know it. A mutagenic plague followed by a global war fought with disintegration weaponry has left much of the Earth a desert of fine powder and what remains of humanity fragmented into humans, animal-like mutants and bloodthirsty monstrosities with lots of teeth. The surface, still teeming with the mutagenic virus, has become the domain of the dreaded Topsiders; well-organized, technologically advanced, and heavily armed un-mutated humans sworn to exterminate mutations of any kind in order to clear the way for the eventual resurgence of a new, genetically clean humanity. Faced with annihilation, mutants and "impure" humans have retreated into the depths of the planet to form communities and hope to win, or at least survive, what may prove to be mankind's final war. Endtown is the continuing story of one of those communities.
